“ There is a state in which we are exquisitely present, fully alive, authentic, and spontaneous. We are open to all of our feelings. We are not afraid to know anything about ourselves or about others. We are connected to our strength and our truth. It is here that we stand fully as leaders in the world. This is Radical Aliveness.” – Ann Bradney

Join Jonathan in this experiential workshop where you will begin to understand and implement how to open up to your feelings, your energy, your wisdom and your gifts. If you truly didn't have to hold back, who would you be? You would be the Authentic You!
